

The Italian Cultural Institute of Louisville, Notiziario for February 2010

A last reminder that

.....The Italian Cultural Institute of Louisville, Inc. (ICI) is hosting the fifth annual Carnevale at 6:30 p.m. this coming Tuesday, February 16, at the Louisville Boat Club, 4200 River Road. Enjoy wine, fabulous desserts and savories with entertainment by the Louisville Mandolin Orchestra and a Commedia dell' Arte skit by Walden School drama students. Attendees are encouraged to wear masks or costumes to fully experience the magic of Italy's famous celebration. The party is free for ICI members but non-members are welcome for $15 per person. Guests have the option of applying the fee to a ICI membership. Reservations are no longer requested; feel free to turn up and be welcomed as part of an annual celebration and recognition of our valued membership.

QuickTime™ and a decompressor
are needed to see this picture.

Biblioteca Italiana/ Tom Van writes:

We will next meet to discuss the Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini at our meeting on Monday, February 22, 7-9 at my place. Carmichael's has the book (Penguin paperback). I will send one more reminder.

Salotto di Clara

Will next meet on the third Thursday of March, the 18th. Full details next issue of Notiziario.

Technology

Join our Facebook Fan Page, The Italian Cultural Institute of Louisville, Inc., access us on Twitter at ICILouisville. For more information send questions to info@icilouisville.org.