

The Italian Cultural Institute of Louisville, Inc.

Istituto Culturale Italiano di Louisville

Notiziario for March 2010

Major events announced for spring and summer

Two Cucina italiana events, film festival, Galileo weekend ... and more

Cucina Italiana with guest chef Dr. Edoardo Lebano

Professor Lebano, director of the Center for Italian Studies at Indiana University, brings insight on Italian cooking from his boyhood home in Florence. Sunday, March 28, 2010. He emphasizes traditional methods using local ingredients. He has regularly taught Italian Cuisine classes at IU and has written The Italian Professor's Cookbook. Time is 3.00 to 5.00 p.m., at Campbell's Gourmet Cottage, 291 North Hubbard's Lane.

Mark your calendar now or call for reservations for Sunday, April 18, 2010, also at Campbell's, also 3 to 5 p.m.

Cucina Semplice

with Martha Hasselbacher & Terry Weiss
Authentic Recipes and Techniques from the Heart of Italy. Martha and Terry will demonstrate cooking techniques for dinner parties and family meals. including soups, salads, first and second courses and desserts.

Reservations for both Cucina events are required. * Members pay $15, guests $25. Please signup for PayPal registration at www.icilouisville.org or call Judy Robbins at 423-8868.

*Guest Cucina fees can be applied toward an ICI membership at the door: Individual membership $50, Family $75, Student $25.

Film Series: Italy in Film

April 6, 14, 21 and 28

At Chao Auditorium, University of Louisville
6:30 reception & 7:00 p.m. Commentary & Film
This will give insight into Italian lifestyle through four stellar films. (The April 6 film is on a Tuesday but subsequent showings April 14, 21 and 28 are on Wednesdays.) See website for listing and additional information.

Program begins with coffee and snacks at 6:30 p.m. followed by an introduction to the film by Professor Gus Mastri. All films are either in English or have English subtitles.

Salotto di Clara

The Salotto di Clara will next meet on Thursday, March 18, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at Clara's house: 7601 Petty Jay Ct. For directions or more details call: (502) 491 2297

Biblioteca Italiana (Tom Van writes) will meet to finish our discussion of Benvenuto Cellini's autobiography and to discuss poems by the Nobel Laureate Salvatore Quasimodo. Time: 7.00 p.m.-9.00 p.m., Monday, March 29, at Tom Van's place. Light refreshments provided. Questions and directions call: (502) 458 4642.

Technology

Join our Facebook Fan Page, The Italian Cultural Institute of Louisville, Inc., access us on Twitter at ICILouisville. For more information send questions to info@icilouisville.org.

Galileo Celebration

Be sure to keep free June 18, 19, & 20 (various times) as ICI joins with The Rauch Planetarium, Frazier History Museum and Bellarmine University in a three-day salute to Galileo. Notable national and regional experts will lecture on Galileo as Astronomer, Galileo the Inventor and Galileo – His Place in History. There will be events for the whole family. The activities will be free with possible small fees for optional activities. Watch www.icilouisville.org for more details.